

W.A. RESIDENTS

WHERE WOULD YOU GO IF YOU WERE THREATENED BY BUSHFIRE?

In an emergency, a good map could save your life!

RMIT is conducting an eye-tracking study to improve how bushfire emergency information is communicated to the public using maps.

Eligibility Criteria

- You are aged 18 or older.
 - No map reading skills required.
- $ In appreciation of your time you will receive a $50 grocery gift card.

1-hour eye-tracking study will be held at the DFES Belmont Regional Office between October 7-22.

91 Leake Street, Belmont

To book a study session:

Scan this code

or use the url:

<https://bit.ly/wafiremapstudy>

CONTACT US

TO BOOK A STUDY SESSION OR FIND OUT MORE, CONTACT:

Amy Griffin: amy.griffin@rmit.edu.au or Gita Pupedis: gita.pupedis2@rmit.edu.au

This study has received ethics clearance through the RMIT University Research Ethics Committee (No. 2024-27473-25341).